

AmaPondo Land Itinerary.

Day	Morning	Afternoon	Evening
Saturday	Meet Global Handprints Guide and fellow Road Trippers at King Shaka (DBN) airport.	Travel from Durban to Port Saint John's, leaving King Shaka (DBN) airport at 1pm.	Check in and settle at the backpackers followed by dinner in their restaurant.
Sunday	Explore Port St Johns while learning about the history of the local area. Treat your body to a soak in the local sulfur springs system, a natural healing site. Refuel with a traditional Xhosa lunchtime meal.		Enjoy a South African braai and sundowners at the top of Mt Thesiger.
Monday	Get flexibe with an early morning yoga class. Drive through the Wild Coast Transkei, taking in the sights on your way to the Hole in the Wall.	Hike across the coastal rocky cliffs from the Hole in the Wall to Coffee Bay.	End the day with well-earned sundowners overlooking Coffee Bay followed by dinner.
Tuesday	Spend the day volunteering at the local community horse welfare project; dipping, bathing, shoeing, cleaning wounds and maintaining treatment records.		See how the locals brew their beer and enjoy a few 'dops' at the shebeen (drinks at the pub to yo and me).
Wednesday	Explore the nearby Mapuzi caves, including the Bat Cave then visit a traditional healer (Sangoma).		Enjoy locally caught fish on the braai (season dependent).
Thursday	Spend the day as a community volunteer at local projects; bead making workshops, financial and budgeting workshops, being a Big Brother or Sister at a nearby children's home.		Relax, chill out and collect your thoughts with free time after dinner.
Friday	Spend the day as a community volunteer at local projects; bead making workshops, financial and budgeting workshops, being a Big Brother or Sister at a nearby children's home.		Let your inner drummer out hitting the bongo drums in the drumming circle.
Saturday	Stop off at the Nelson Mandela museum to learn all about his legacy and the impact of apartheid before continuing en route to Underberg.		End this long day of travelling with a relaxed dinner amongst new friends at the backpackers.
Sunday	Get up and going early, heading out on a horse ride in the 'Berg. Before leaving the region, call in at the local cheesery for a chance to sample THE best Gouda. Ever.	Take in the stunning views across the Drakensberg mountain range making your way to Champagne Castle.	Check in and get settled at the backpackers followed by a 3 course home made, vegetarian dinner.

When designing the itinerary, we aim to keep time in the Landys to a minimum. However, South Africa is a big place! In order for you to get to see and experience as much as possible, there will be the odd day where you are in the car for longer periods of time. Luckily, you'll be accompanied at all times by our Guide who will while away the hours with fun facts about the area and culture as well as spotting any interesting animals along the way. These drives also give you time to practice your newly acquired language skills with each other, catch up online using the Global Handprints tablet (network connection permitting) and also play any of the games listed in our handy little 'Road Tripper's Games' book. Got a great game you want future Road Trippers to play? Feel free to add it in and leave your mark.

Please remember that, although we do our best to put together an itinerary that is suitable for all ages, fitness levels and mindsets, we understand some people may want to sit out on the odd occasion. Unfortunately, because our itineraries are organized in advance with community project and business partners, we are unable to offer a discount for any activities that are not taken part in.

We endeavour to provide volunteer work and adventure activities exactly as they appear on the itinerary. However, TIA! (This Is Africa). That means that sometimes things will change due to weather, cultural holidays or simply what side of bed people get out of that morning. We will keep all Road Trippers up to date with changes along the way and should itineraries change once bookings have been made, we will let you know!
